

Clinical Neuropsychiatry Fellowship Program (2017-2019)

The Department of Psychiatry, University of British Columbia (UBC) in partnership with the Provincial Health Services Authority is offering a 2-year Clinical Fellowship in Neuropsychiatry commencing July 1, 2017. This fellowship is accredited through the United Council for Neurologic Specialties (UCNS), an affiliate of the American Neurological Association. Key to the fellowship is a 2-year return of service commitment with Fraser Health Authority, BC.

The first year of the fellowship consists of clinical rotations in neuropsychiatry, neurology, neuroanatomy, neurophysiology and neuroradiology at UBC, Vancouver General, St Paul's Hospitals, and GF Strong Rehabilitation Centre.

The second year will be spent primarily at UBC Hospital focusing on clinical inpatient and outpatient exposure to neuropsychiatric disorders with outreach clinics in the Fraser Region. An adjunctive seminar series and weekly neuropsychiatry rounds are provided to enhance the academic experience. Research is optional. It is expected that the successful fellow complete the UCNS diplomate examination at the completion of training.

At the completion of the fellowship, the physician will be expected to provide 2 years of clinical service to Fraser Health Authority including the development of Neuropsychiatric services for the region.

The salary during the fellowship is $90,000 annually prior to benefits deductions, supplemented by other remuneration from clinical service.

Applicants must hold Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada certification in psychiatry and be eligible for an unrestricted license to practice medicine in British Columbia. UBC hires on the basis of merit and is strongly committed to equity and diversity within its community. We especially welcome applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and others with the skills and knowledge to productively engage with diverse communities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Interested applicants should forward their CVs by February 15, 2017 to:
